The third annual Macomb Business Awards breakfast event returns on Tuesday, Feb. 10. The celebration offers opportunities for companies of all sizes to be recognized for their efforts to succeed and grow. Nominations will be accepted until Dec. 10 in the following categories:

- Champion of Workforce Development – utilizing innovative practices for hiring, training and retaining employees.
- Corporate Citizen – meaningful community engagement through service and financial support.
- Diversification Leader – success in generating new revenue through new industries and/or markets.
- Efficiency Expert – success in increasing cash flow through process and/or energy efficiencies.
- Startup Business of the Year – in operation for four years or less with more than two employees.
- Model of OneMacomb – outstanding achievement in cultivating an environment where diversity and inclusion are valued.

“There are many businesses in Macomb County that are taking extra steps to ensure their continued viability and success,” said Macomb County Executive Mark A. Hackel. “This program helps us to recognize them while sharing their best practices as an example for others.”

All nominated companies will be recognized at the event.
